Overview

This standard is about making the best use of your team and its members so that they can achieve your organisation's objectives. It covers allocating work, agreeing objectives, and setting out plans and methods of working. It also involves monitoring and evaluating the work of your team and its members and providing feedback to them on their performance.

There are five elements

1. Agree objectives and work plans with teams and individuals
   This involves setting out and agreeing objectives and work plans which are specific, measurable, realistic, time-bound and consistent with your organisation's overall objectives and policies. It includes explaining ways of working in sufficient detail for your team members to understand their objectives and responsibilities.

2. Allocate and delegate work to teams and individuals
   This includes deciding with your team how to distribute tasks and responsibilities. It involves making sure this allocation makes best use of team members' abilities, and provides opportunities for them to learn and develop their roles.

3. Assess the performance of teams and individuals
   This includes making it clear why you are monitoring and assessing their performance. It involves encouraging them to evaluate their own performance wherever possible. You need to evaluate their performance against clear, agreed criteria, taking into account organisational constraints and personal circumstances.

4. Provide feedback to teams and individuals on their performance
   This involves giving regular feedback based on your objective assessment of their performance. It includes acknowledging their achievements and providing constructive suggestions and encouragement together with opportunities for them to respond to your feedback.

5. Resolve performance issues with teams and individuals
   This involves investigating and managing incidents of poor performance or reduced performance. It includes your role in formal and informal review, disciplinary and grievance procedures.

Glossary

Allocating work: Giving teams and individuals responsibility for tasks which should achieve agreed work objectives
Assessment of performance: A balanced analysis of performance against planned objectives, taking all relevant factors into account
Confidentiality: Only providing information to those who are authorised to have it
Feedback on performance: Information you give to team members on how well they are performing against the objectives which have been agreed
Monitoring: Keeping a close eye on activities and results, and comparing these with planned objectives; methods include considering spoken and written information provided by others
Objectives: Clearly defined results which your team and its members need to achieve; objectives should be specific, measurable, realistic and time-bound
Organisational constraints: Your organisation's policies, objectives and level of resources, which limit your freedom to take decisions and action
Organisational objectives: Clearly defined and measurable results which your organisation is scheduled to achieve
Plans: Documents or spoken agreements, which describe the work to be carried out, by when, by whom, to what standard and with what resources, in order that requirements and objectives can be met
Policies: Guidelines which cover the allocation of work, such as equal opportunities, training and development and performance management policies
Prioritisation: Deciding the relative importance and urgency of objectives and tasks, so that you know in which order to tackle them
Relevant people: Team members, colleagues working at the same level as the manager, higher-level managers and sponsors, personnel specialists, people outside the organisation, customers and suppliers
Resources: The people, time, equipment, materials, services, energy and premises which you have at your disposal
Schedules: Documents showing the work to be done, when and, sometimes, by whom
Values: The principles which your organisation believes in and seeks to realise in everything it does; values may be reflected in your organisation's mission, standards of work, relationships between individuals at work, relationships with suppliers, customers and other stakeholders, personnel management and reward systems, training, equal opportunities, health and safety and environmental policies
